MEDIA INFORMATION:

Working Credentials: Please direct all requests for media credentials to: Nebraska Sports Information Office, University of Nebraska, P.O. Box 880123, Lincoln, Neb., 68588-0123. All requests should be directed to Chris Anderson, Interim Associate Sports Information Director. Office phone (402) 472-2263.

Radio/TV Accommodations: Buck Beltzer Stadium has a fully-equipped press box with two separate radio/tv booths. Any visiting station wishing to broadcast Nebraska baseball games should notify the sports information office at least one week in advance of the game.

Telephone Service: To order telephone service in the Buck Beltzer Stadium press box, broadcasters should call Ruth Michalecki, Director of the University of Nebraska Telecommunications Center at (402) 472-2000. One telephone is available for writers use, free of charge.

Coach and Player Services: The best time to reach Nebraska head baseball coach John Sanders is weekdays between 9-11 a.m. All player interviews will be arranged through the sports information office or through the baseball office. Following each home game, Sanders and requested players will report after a short cooling-off period, to the UNL baseball conference room for interviews. The staff requests that no interviews be conducted between games of a double-header.

KLIN TO BROADCAST 23 GAMES NEBRASKA BASEBALL IN 1993:

Lincoln's KLIN, 1400 AM, will broadcast 23 Husker baseball games this year, including all of the weekend Big Eight series. KLIN Sports Director Jim Rose, a 1985 UNL graduate, and former Husker football and baseball standout Adrian Fiala will provide the play-by-play and color analysis, respectively. Rose returned to Lincoln in 1991 after five years of sports broadcasting in Kansas. The award-winning broadcaster hosts Lincoln's only nightly sports talk program. Among his previous assignments, Rose has been play-by-play announcer for the Wichita State Basketball Television Network and the Kansas Shrine Bowl football game. Fiala is a familiar

The Husker Home Run Club is an organization formed to promote and support the sport of baseball and help provide financial assistance to the University of Nebraska. Annual donations to the Husker Home Run Club are contributed to the NU Athletic Department in order to maintain excellence in the Nebraska baseball program.

Established in 1981, the Home Run Club (HRC) was reconstructed in 1988 in order to provide members with a broad range of membership opportunities. Your contribution will help the Nebraska baseball program expand and to remain among the nation's elite. (See chart at right for the six different membership levels).

Be a part of a winning tradition—join the Husker Home Run Club today and show your loyalty and support.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR BILL BYRNE

On June 26, 1992, Bill Byrne was introduced by UNL Chancellor Graham Spanier as the person to succeed longtime Husker athletic director Bob Devaney. He became just the 10th A.D. in the history of Nebraska athletics since 1928 and just the third since 1962. Byrne, an energetic 47-year-old, came to Nebraska from the University of Oregon where he was athletic director for eight years. He arrived in Lincoln on Nov. 1, 1992, then took the reins of the athletic department on Jan. 4, 1993 when Bob Devaney retired his position and became Athletic Director Emeritus and an athletic department fund-raiser. Byrne is emphatic when he speaks of former A.D. Bob Devaney, who led the Huskers to two football national championships and provided 26 years of quality leadership as athletic director. Byrne said, "I am following Bob Devaney, not replacing him. I use the word 'follow' deliberately, because no one can replace Bob Devaney. He is a living legend. A giant. He is one of the greatest American college leaders. He has built a legacy at Nebraska—something I would hope we could continue." The new Husker mentor brings with him the credentials to continue the unprecedented success all 21 varsity sports have enjoyed at Nebraska under Devaney. Byrne arrived in Oregon in 1982 as associate athletic director and the top administrator for the Duck Athletic Fund. He immediately established fund-raising offices in Portland and southern Oregon and established a full-time marketing and promotions operation, which blossomed to encompass the Oregon Sports Network for in-house production of Ducks' contests on radio and television throughout the state. Byrne assumed the duties of director of athletics in late summer of 1984 as one of the youngest directors in Division I athletics. He served in that role from 1984 to November of 1992. During his eight-year tenure as athletic director, Oregon qualified for postseason competition in football, men's and women's basketball, volleyball, wrestling, softball, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's track and field, and men's golf. Meanwhile, the Ducks' overall budget soared to $12.5 million in 1992 from $5 million in 1984. One of Byrne's most noted accomplishments at Oregon was the three-year construction project to build the $12 million Casanova Athletic Center, the home of the Ducks' football team and athletic department offices. The project also included a new press box and sky suites at Autzen Stadium. The facility was financed through skybox and skysuite revenues, sale of sponsor seats and cash and gift-in-kind donations and was completed in 1992. Respected by his peers, Byrne served as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) in the 1991-92 academic year, and is in his fourth year on that organization's executive committee. He was also chairman of the Pacific-10 Conference executive committee and was named national fund-raiser-of-the-year by the National Athletic Fund-Raisers Association. Born in Boston, Byrne grew up in Idaho and attended Idaho State University, where he was student body president. He received bachelor's and master's degrees in business at the Pocatello school. He was assistant athletic director at San Diego State University, executive director for the University of New Mexico Lobo Club and director of alumni relations at Idaho State before going to Oregon as associate athletic director in 1982. Byrne, described by his peers as persistent, optimistic, enthusiastic and diligent, said his first priority at Nebraska would be to get to know Husker supporters both in and out of Nebraska. His goal as A.D. is, "to continue the high level of performance that Bob Devaney has helped generate at Nebraska." Chancellor Graham Spanier said Byrne will continue Nebraska's national prominence and will help the Huskers build for the future. Spanier said, "Bill Byrne is prepared to respect Nebraska's traditions while bringing us some new ideas of his own. His accomplishments in management, fund-raising, innovation, relations and leadership are obvious and will serve us well." Byrne and his wife Marilyn (who was born in Salem, Ore., but lived in Ainsworth, Neb., as a child), have two sons, Bill, a 1992 graduate of Stanford University, and Greg, a junior at Arizona State.

A Salute to Bob Devaney

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR
EMERITUS
DEVANEY

One of the greatest coaches in the history of American football and a 1981 inductee into the College Football Hall of Fame, for the past two decades, Bob Devaney has devoted his vast energies toward the supervision of the entire athletic program at the University of Nebraska and has always been a special friend to Nebraska baseball and Coach John Sanders.

Nebraska has one of the finest athletic programs in the nation, thanks to Devaney's inspiration and leadership during the past 31 years. On Jan. 4, 1993, Devaney stepped down as athletic director and turned the reins over to Bill Byrne. Still with the athletic department, Devaney has now turned his attention to fund-raising and serves the role of Athletic Director Emeritus.

Devaney did many things for the Husker baseball program, in addition to hiring Coach Sanders, he helped build a new baseball park (Buck Beltzer Stadium) complete with an AstroTurf infield and grandstands. Additional press facilities at Beltzer were added in 1988 and top-of-the-line Musco lights were installed in 1989.

Devaney's most recent accomplishment was to spearhead a fund-raising drive to provide the University of Nebraska athletic teams with an indoor workout facility. The size of a full football field, Cook Pavilion was completed in 1989 and is available for the NU baseball team workouts. As part of the same project, an adjoining faculty-student recreation facility was finished in 1991, the Lee and Helene Sapp Recreation Center. Devaney also supervised the complete renovation of the connecting Coliseum, which re-opened in 1992.

Few coaches ever achieve the success Devaney did as headmaster of the Nebraska Cornhuskers from 1962 to 1972. During most of that span, he was the "winningest coach in the nation," based on percentage of victories. He wound up with three-straight Orange Bowl wins to go with his amazing record of nine bowl trips in 11 years, eight Big Eight titles, two national championships, two Outland Trophy winners, a Lombardi Award winner, a Heisman Trophy winner and numerous coach-of-the-year and similar individual honors. Twice his teams won four consecutive Big Eight titles, 1963-66 and 1969-72.

Devaney played football as an end at Alma College in Michigan, graduating with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1939. After starting his coaching career at Big Beaver, Mich., Devaney moved to Keego Harbor and Saginaw before spending seven years at Alpena High where his teams earned a 52-9-0 record. He then joined Biggie Munn, and later Duffy Daugherty, at Michigan State before becoming head coach at Wyoming in 1957.

Devaney is married to his college sweetheart, the former Phyllis Wiley. His son, Mike, and daughter Patricia, are both graduates of the University of Nebraska. He's a grandfather, too, with Mike's family including a daughter and a son.

Head Coach John Sanders

When Nebraska native John Sanders took over the reins of the Husker baseball program 16 years ago he quickly earned national respect for a program that had only been averaging 12 wins per season. In fact, Sanders gave the program an immediate overhaul.

After finishing sixth in the Big Eight Conference during his first year on the job, Sanders and the Huskers finished second in conference play in 1979 and earned a berth to the NCAA regional tournament. During the 1980s, Sanders worked to establish a long-lasting, nationally-recognized program. With an untiring attitude, he began a mission of raising outside support. He accomplished that mission. Now in the 1990s, the Big Red still has the nation's attention, as evidenced by a preseason No. 32 ranking and Sanders' signing of the 19th best recruiting class in 1992.

After 15 years under Sanders' tutelage, Nebraska is not only a regular contender for the Big Eight title, but has been ranked in all but four of those years, has competed in three NCAA regional tournaments, and under Sanders, is averaging 41 wins per season.

Hard work, nation-wide recruiting and superb facilities have helped make Sanders the winningest coach in Nebraska history, and 35th among active coaches in the nation. Sanders was the first NU coach to earn 400 wins when he reached that plateau in 1987. He passed the 600 mark last year with a 13-2 win over Evansville on April 5, to join the ranks of some 46 other active Division I coaches with 600 career victories. He has a 611-317 career record for a .658 winning percentage and ranks 45th among active Division I coaches in the most victories category.

During his tenure, Sanders has coached numerous outstanding athletes who are currently pursuing pro careers. The list includes current major league standouts Pete O'Brien of the Seattle Mariners, Tim Burke of the Cincinnati Reds and Kip Gross of the Los Angeles Dodgers. In 1991, Coach Sanders saw four of his Huskers make the jump to the minor leagues, including Shawn Buchanan, Bill Vosik, Dave Matranga and Brian McArn. In 1992, catcher Jeff Murphy was drafted into the St. Louis Cardinals organization. In 15 years, 69 of Sanders' players have been drafted or signed free agent contracts and have had the opportunity to try their hand in the pros, an average of 4.5 per year.

Since Sanders took over in 1978, the Huskers have been in contention for the Big Eight Conference title nearly every year, placing second twice, this in the second-toughest conference in the nation (according to Collegiate Baseball). To go along with Sanders' winning career record, he also has posted a 178-138 (.563) Big Eight Conference record and a total career record of 658-347 (.655) which includes three years in the junior college ranks.

As the Nebraska native transformed the Husker program, postseason appearances, national rankings and winning seasons are becoming a common occurrence. Under the Grand Island native, Nebraska has been ranked in the top 25 (and as high as second) in 11 of those 15 years. Three of Sanders' teams have gone on to postseason NCAA tournament play, in 1979, 1980 and 1985, with the 1980 Husker team recording a second-place finish in the Midwest Region. Eleven of Sanders' last 14 teams have participated in the Big Eight Conference four-team tournament (expands to a six-team tourney in 1993).

Besides a winning tradition, Sanders has brought other changes to Nebraska, including brand new facilities. In 1978, Nebraska's diamond was re-christened as Buck Beltzer Stadium and re-developed into a first-class facility with the addition of 1,500 stadium seats and an artificial turf infield. In 1984, a new baseball office building, which houses the Husker locker room and a state-of-the-art conference room, was completed and named the Otto and Gladys Baumann Building.

In conjunction with longtime NU athletic director, Bob Devaney, Sanders has worked to keep Buck Beltzer Stadium one of the nation's best atmospheres for college baseball. Recent additions at Beltzer include press box seating in 1988, Musco stadium lights in 1989 and a new public address stereo and speaker system for the 1993 season.

Sanders also set out to build community support for his program through the Home Run Club and through countless speaking engagements. These efforts have paid off with record-setting season and single-game ticket sales and a booster club that continues to grow.

The success that Sanders has found as a collegiate coach is nothing new for the Grand Island native. Ever since his first American Legion game in 1960, Sanders has excelled in baseball.

At Grand Island High, Sanders was a three-sport star who was named the Nebraska Prep Athlete-of-the-Year as a senior and was inducted into the Grand Island Hall of Honor in May of 1991.

Following his prep career, Sanders found himself the object of recruiters from both Nebraska and Colorado, who sought him to be a quarterback, as well as all of the state colleges as a potential basketball player. Ironically, Sanders didn't play baseball in high school, but he eventually signed a contract with the Kansas City Athletics, after A's scout Whitey Herzog convinced him that professional baseball was his future. Herzog, of course, went on to win a World Series as the manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, and while Sanders' major league experience wasn't a lifetime (two months in 1965), it did help lay the foundation for a coaching career that led him back to his home state university.

Sanders earned his bachelor's and master's degrees at Northern Colorado while coaching at University High School and at UNC as an assistant under Pete Butler.

Sanders first head coaching job came at Chemeketa Community College in Salem, Oregon. In his only year there, Sanders took a non-scholarship program and posted a 13-13 record. Sanders left Chemeketa in the fall of 1974 to become the assistant coach at Arizona Western. But his tenure as an assistant lasted only half a season, after which he became the Matadors' head coach and led the squad to a 10-2 record to finish the season. In 1976, Sanders led the team to a 24-13 mark and to the regional playoffs. But the 1976 squad was to be his last in the junior college ranks, since he returned to Nebraska to serve as Tony Sharpe's assistant in 1977.

After serving for one year under Sharpe, Sanders was named to succeed his mentor when Sharpe retired after a colorful 31-year career. Beginning with the 1978 season, Sanders' teams have built a legacy of success unparalleled in Nebraska baseball history. Sanders served as his own pitching coach from 1978 to 1981. In 1991 he assumed that role again and still serves as the Huskers' primary pitching coach.

Off the playing field, Sanders has been a tireless promoter of Husker baseball, taking his Big Red Baseball schools on a statewide swing each summer as well as speaking at numerous clinics and conducting two camps at home in Lincoln. He has served twice as an assistant coach for the U.S. National Team that competed against teams from Japan in an all-star series during the summer. He is a member of the national board of collegiate coaches who select the top 25 teams each week. Sanders also served on the selection committee that picked America's first Olympic baseball team for the 1984 Summer Games.

Sanders is married to the former Marilee Omer and they have two children, Elizabeth Jane (25) and Craig (20), the latter of which serves as a sophomore pitcher on the Husker ballclub.

What do you look for in a recruit?

"We want the highly-motivated individual, who is legitimately looking to realize goals. Having a good athletic index is part of that, but that's not our major focus. For example, Pete O'Brien (Husker first baseman 1978-79) did not have a great athletic index, but he had tremendous instincts and an outstanding mental makeup...we want that type of person to wear the Red and White. An individual who is so motivated that he will demonstrate tremendous pride, loyalty and self-discipline; someone who will work without being forced to work; someone who will strive to be the best he can be, even when he's not being pushed. We want the person who is what we call, 'the winner's winner.'...a guy who has a burning desire to be the best that he can be. We want a person who sets individual goals within the team concept and understands that it is imperative to strive to make his teammates look good. We want people with character, not 'characters.' We recruit individuals who are dedicated academically, athletically and socially. We want out-state players who can come to Lincoln, relate to Nebraskans and develop an attitude of, 'Once a Husker, always a Husker!' and in-state players who thrive on that Husker upbringing and tradition."

Why should a recruit pick the University of Nebraska?

"I've often been asked when recruiting, 'Why Nebraska? Why would a person from California or New Jersey want to come here?' I've felt for years that this is a place where from top to bottom, the state, city, university, athletic department and individual colleges within the university, all people care about the student-athlete's individual needs. Here, a person feels a strong sense of identity with an environment conducive to excellence in all areas. The school is a solid institution and the baseball program is solid with coaches who care. Students at Nebraska are not here to ski or surf, they are here to get the support and motivation they need to succeed, and that's what Nebraska provides, both academically and athletically. When a person leaves Nebraska, we want that individual to have the basis to be successful, whether that is as a professional ball player, accountant, lawyer, educator, etc., it works on the same principle—proper preparation. Once a student matriculates through the system and contributes here, he WILL experience future success, because he has left home, endured, worked hard, and focused on school and baseball without all the external distractions that are present at many universities."

What is your game-day philosophy?

"I've always felt that practices are for coaches, but game day is for the athletes. I like to keep game day simple. The players perform, the coaches guide, but game time is fun time, let the players play. If the players are well-prepared, then come game time, you let them perform and take the true test. Game time is the most enjoyable part of coaching for me."

What is a University of Nebraska practice like?

"Our practices are conducted in a logical progression at game speed with a desired end result for each activity. Our drills are functional to ensure that on game day we are merely executing as an extension of our practices. In short, our goal is to 'win each practice,' which leads to game readiness."

What about after a recruit arrives on campus?

"Our ultimate goal, one year after a recruit arrives on campus, is to have that recruit say, 'The coaches are the same as when they recruited me.'"

ASSISTANT COACH

A first-team All-America outfielder for Nebraska in 1986, Meyers is in his seventh year as an assistant coach for Nebraska, but his first as Coach Sanders' No. 1 full-time assistant. Meyers will serve as the Huskers' hitting coach, recruiting coordinator and will coach the outfielders.

Prior to 1992, Meyers assisted Coach Sanders during the fall and in the early spring before he reported for spring camp with the Los Angeles Dodgers. However, a shoulder injury ended his playing career and allowed him to return to Lincoln to aid the Husker program for the entire 1992 season. In January of 1993, Meyers was officially named Sanders' No. 1 assistant on a full-time basis.

A fourth-round draft pick in 1986, Meyers led the Huskers in nearly every category with a .347 average, 20 doubles, 15 home runs and 85 hits. In his three-year career as a Husker, Meyers hit .350 with 250 hits, 209 RBI, 36 homers and 60 stolen bases.

Meyers earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Nebraska in business administration in 1992. A native of Omaha, he is married to the former Laurie Berkshire.

Coach Sanders said, "Paul not only was a great player in our program and in professional baseball, but is also an outstanding teacher, coach and person who we feel has a great future here."

ASSISTANT COACH

The newest member of the Nebraska baseball coaching staff is Tim Seaton. A Nebraska native, Seaton was an infielder for the Huskers the past two years and joined the Husker staff in the fall of 1992 as the infielders coach.

Seaton played third base, shortstop and second base for Nebraska in 1991 and 1992, serving as co-captain last year. Seaton hit over .300 in 1991 with 11 doubles, four home runs and 25 RBI despite playing with a sprained ankle much of the last half of the season. In 1992, Seaton again played injured, but secured the infield, playing second and third base. In his two-year career, Seaton hit .280 with 20 doubles and nine home runs.

Coach Sanders said, "We're very pleased to have Tim join our staff. Tim made an outstanding contribution here as a player and we feel he will make an equal contribution as a coach. He has a future in coaching."

Seaton prepped at Millard North High School, playing the middle infield for Coach Ron Johnette and earned first-team all-state honors. He was drafted out of high school by the Baltimore Orioles.

1993 Huskers Rank No. 32 in Preseason Poll

The hottest ticket in Lincoln this spring is a $3 admission to the ballpark at 1101 Avery Avenue. The 1993 Nebraska baseball team may be as hot as the red on the Husker uniforms.

Seven starters return from the 1992 team which posted Coach John Sanders' 14th winning season in 15 years at the helm of NU. On the mound, the Huskers lost three starters but return senior reliever Steve Boyd, who set the school record for saves with nine, starter Craig Sanders and three other lettermen.

Despite the losses on the mound, Sanders can't wait to hear the call, "Playball." A recruiting class ranked No. 19 by Collegiate Baseball is part of the reason for Sanders' optimism. The new class, which includes five drafted players and several power pitchers, helped earn the Huskers a 32nd preseason ranking by Collegiate Baseball, and a predicted NCAA berth by both Collegiate Baseball and Baseball America.

Preseason honors are abundant: Senior outfielder Marc Sagmoen is a first-team preseason All-American (Mizuno/Collegiate Baseball); shortstop Darin Petersen was a first-team freshman All-American (Mizuno/Collegiate Baseball); outfielder Jed Dalton was a second-team selection to Baseball America's freshman All-America squad; two other freshmen, Sanders and OF/1B Troy Brohawn received votes to Baseball America's freshman All-America team; add to that the fact that outfielder Darin Erstad was ranked No. 13 on Baseball America's Top 25 freshman list for 1993 and was also named the publication's preseason Big Eight Freshman-of-the-Year.

In addition to a Top 20 recruiting class, the highest ranking for a Northern school, Sanders said Nebraska has, "Improved everything."

"We have more power, better speed and better hitting overall. We have a more-predictable pitching staff with more flexibility than we had last year. We have shored up our pitching and improved our defense. We were staggered by injuries with Tim Seaton, Dale Hagy and Sagmoen injured all last year, but now we are healthy and we are solid."

OUTFIELD:

Among the seven returning starters are six position players, five of which combined to make up the starting lineup in the outfield last season, including Collegiate Baseball's preseason All-American Marc Sagmoen. Sagmoen started the first 31 games in center field in 1992, until a broken right arm ended his season one week into conference action. Sagmoen led the Big Eight, hitting .446—the second-highest average in school history. He led the team in every offensive category before the injury ended his season prematurely. NU posted a 20-11 record in its first 31 games and went 3-1 in its league opener vs. Kansas when Sagmoen played. Without him, the Huskers won 11 of their last 25 games and went 8-12 in the last five Big Eight series.

Sagmoen is just one of the reasons Coach Sanders is speculating that the "best outfield in the nation" can be seen in Lincoln this year. Jed Dalton, a 1992 second-team Freshman All-American (Baseball America) returns. He started 25 games in right field, then 21 in center after Sagmoen broke his arm. Dalton was third on the team, hitting .358 with eight doubles, seven home runs and 26 RBI. Three other returnees started games in the outfield including senior Sean McKenna who began the season at first base, started 20 games in the outfield then closed the season as NU's designated hitter. McKenna is a three-year letterman who hit .312 with 34 RBI, nine doubles and four home runs in 1992. Senior James Garcia moved into left field after Sagmoen's injury. He started 21 games there, 28 total in the outfield and hit .243. Sophomore Troy Brohawn, who led the Huskers hitting .342 in Big Eight games, also earned votes for the Collegiate Baseball Freshman All-America team. Brohawn began the season in the outfield, then moved to first base for the conference season.

But McKenna will return to his 1991 position behind the plate or could serve as a right-handed DH. Brohawn will return to where he finished the season last year—first base. Despite their experience, the outfield will be pushed as freshman sensation Darin Erstad has already made an impact. This fall, ball-shaggers made many a trip across Avery Avenue to chase down dingers and Erstad is one of the reasons. Sanders said, "When Erstad hits, there is no doubt about it. If he hits in the three-hole and the guys in front of him are on base...look out." In fact, the Huskers first three hitters could very well be NU's starting outfield with Sagmoen expected to lead off, Dalton in the two-hole and Erstad capable of hitting in the three-hole or cleanup.

The five with outfield experience averaged .334 at the plate last year. Dalton and Sagmoen alone hit a combined .394 with 28 extra-base hits in 79 games. It's no wonder with the addition of Erstad, a 13th-round draft pick, Sanders confidently said, "I believe we've got the best outfield in the country, period."

CATCHERS:

McKenna, who hit .312 last season with 34 RBI and nine doubles, could resume catching duties, a position he held in 1991. He will be pushed by outstanding newcomers Kurt Alderman and David Schmidt. Alderman is a junior college transfer from Sacramento City College where he was drafted by the New York Yankees. A strong player, Alderman hit .369 in 1992 with 36 RBI. Schmidt is a freshman from Kennewick High School in Washington where he hit .521, was all-conference and drafted by the Chicago Cubs. Schmidt and Alderman hit left, while McKenna hits right. Any of the three could also serve as designated hitter.

INFIELD:

Brohawn figures to secure first base when he's not on the mound, but newcomer Matt McKay will make a case for playing time. Brohawn hit .311 last season with 22 RBI, he had 12 extra-base hits and came on strong at the end of the season as he led the Huskers in hitting at .342 in Big Eight games. McKay, a Nebraska native, is a junior college transfer from Hutchinson Community College. Sanders said McKay, a power-hitter who hit .398 as a freshman and .409 as a sophomore at Hutchinson with a combined 21 homers and 89 RBI, could also serve as a right-handed DH.

Petersen, who was a 1992 Freshman All-American (Mizuno/Collegiate Baseball), returns to the infield after hitting .329 last year with 54 hits, seven doubles and 32 RBI. He can play short, second or third base as can newcomer Robert Perry, but Petersen and Perry are expected to secure shortstop and second and are virtually interchangeable. Perry, who was drafted in 1991 by the Chicago White Sox, complements Petersen and gives the Huskers a strong infield, both offensively and defensively. Perry hit .303 last season at Sacramento City, where he was a teammate of Alderman, and was a two-time All-Camino Norte Conference selection.

In addition to Perry and Petersen, junior David Barnes of Yakima Valley could play second base, while David Gappa or Derek Dukart could play third. Barnes, who hits right, hit .378 last year,

1992 Recruiting Class Rated 19th Overall

won the Big Stick Award at Yakima, and stole a school-record, conference-leading 40 bases. Dukart hit .350 at Mt. Hood last season with 40 RBI. Gappa is a freshman from Kearney High School and according to Sanders, is very similar to his predecessor Bill Vosik, an All-Big Eight third baseman out of Kearney who played for Nebraska in 1990-91. Gappa hit .410 last year and is a utility player who played at short, second, outfield and pitched.

PITCHING:

The 1993 staff is basically new, but may be the strongest and most talented the Huskers have had in some time.

With the departure of starters Mike Zajeski and John Izumi to graduation and Josh Bullock to the draft, the only returning starter is sophomore RHP Craig Sanders, who received votes for freshman All-America honors a year ago. At 6-4, 225, he is an imposing pitcher and was second on the team in ERA and fourth in the Big Eight at 3.00. He started seven of his 14 appearances, pitched 48 innings and struck out 34.

Nebraska's top reliever, Steve Boyd, returns after setting the Husker record for most saves in a season at nine in 1992. The senior right-hander posted a 4.03 ERA in 38 innings, a 3-4 record and struck out 37. Although he started just one game in 25 appearances, he may assume a starting role this spring. Other returnees include senior Jeff Nollette and sophomores Jason Pflughaupt and Derek Mickelson. Although the three saw limited action last year, a year of experience will be helpful. Mickelson, like Sanders, is imposing on the mound at 6-4, 210. All of the Husker returning pitchers are Nebraska natives.

One of the strongest and most powerful staffs Coach Sanders has seen, in addition to Craig Sanders and Mickelson, newcomers Alvie Shepherd (freshman, 6-7, 215), Josh Ophus (freshman, 6-3, 195), Casey Deskins (junior, 6-3, 205, Yakima Valley) and Tom Bergan (junior, 6-1, 210, Yakima Valley) are powerful throwers. Other newcomers include transfers Chris Bauer (junior, Colby Community College) and Brian Martin (senior, Colorado State which dropped its program). Sanders not only has a quality staff with depth, but with an average height and weight of 6-2 1/2 and 197, his staff is imposing. In fact, all the NU pitchers are over 6-0, with Bauer the smallest at 6-1, 160. Shepherd, a draft pick by the California Angels, was the Illinois baseball player-of-the-year (Press Publications) and set school career records with 284 strikeouts and 22 wins. He went 10-3 in 1992 with 124 strikeouts and a 0.53 ERA and could be a starter this spring for NU. Deskins and Bergan, both transfers from Yakima Valley College in Washington, could also assume starting roles. Part of the Yakima-Nebraska connection, Bergan and Deskins pitched to fellow Husker newcomer Schmidt and also played with Barnes at Yakima Valley, the school which produced Sagmoen a year earlier. Bergan was 5-3 as a starter, Deskins was 8-0 with a 1.74 ERA and led the conference in strikeouts with 71. Brohawn, who was a high school pitcher and according to Sanders, "threw lights out," in the fall, will pitch for the first time as a Husker this spring. He and Deskins are the staff's only two lefties, but could be keys to Husker success.

A LOOK AT THE 1993 SCHEDULE:

The 1993 season will provide a tough Division I schedule for the Huskers and excitement for the fans. The Huskers will play all but three of their allowed 56 games against Division I opponents, 19 games are against top 20 teams and 33 times Nebraska will face Top 40 Elite teams (as noted by Collegiate Baseball).

No. 32 Nebraska opens the season at home with four games against Western Illinois on Feb. 26-28. Oral Roberts University, who is a corresponding member of Division I and will be a full member again next season after placing second in the NAIA Championship Tournament last year, visits Lincoln on March 9-10. Then the Huskers take a return trip to the Pepsi/Johnny Quick Classic in Fresno, Calif., where four ranked teams in addition to Nebraska will compete, plus three other quality Division I teams. In Nebraska's bracket is No. 21/19 (Collegiate Baseball/Baseball America) Clemson, No. 33/— St. John's and Southwest Missouri State. Host Fresno State is ranked 17th/20th and is bracketed with No. 6/2 Arizona, Texas Tech (who received votes) and Kansas State. The Huskers then meet up with No. 19/12 Stanford in a single game at Palo Alto, Calif., before traveling to Albuquerque for a three-game series against New Mexico, which also received votes.

After a four-game, home-and-home series with No. 29/23 Creighton to close out March, Nebraska begins the newly-structured 30-game Big Eight Conference schedule. As opposed to last year's four-game series at one site, this season conference teams will play a three-game series at one site on the weekend, then two more games at the opposite site on Tuesday or Wednesday, usually immediately following the weekend games. All five games of each series are scheduled for nine innings. The new format gives the league 30 conference games instead of 24. Six of the seven teams will qualify for the Big Eight Tournament in Oklahoma City on May 19-22. Of the Big Eight schools, Oklahoma State is ranked No. 5 by Collegiate Baseball and Baseball America, Oklahoma is ranked No. 20 (Collegiate Baseball), Missouri and Kansas received votes, Iowa State made the Big Eight Tournament last year and K-State is improved.

Coach Sanders said, "I like the new five-game format. It will be great for our fans and media. It is much the same as basketball, where you see us at home and on the road. It also gives us an additional six Division I games, which is beneficial for us in this area of the country. We have overall, one of the most challenging schedules we have had here in a long time. With the Fresno Classic and Stanford and New Mexico over spring break, we have difficult challenges on the road early on, but it will make us tournament-tough and will give us excellent experience for the grueling conference schedule."

In the second-toughest baseball conference in America (Collegiate Baseball), Sanders is expecting more than a third or fourth-place league finish as predicted by the periodicals. He said, "Our guys are saying, 'Let's get our expectations up.' Every ballplayer on our team wants the Big Eight title and our challenge is to prepare to attain the title."

Despite the anticipation for the Feb. 26, 1993 opener against Western Illinois, Sanders can't help looking even further into the future. He said, "The No. 19 ranking of our 1993 recruiting class shows where the Nebraska baseball program is headed. Out of some 260 Division I baseball programs, we are in the top 10 percentile and are the highest-ranked Northern school. To me, that means the future of Nebraska baseball is very bright."

With such high expectations, one would expect Sanders to be a bit uneasy about how his players will react. However, Sanders knows his team has the hitting power and talent to meet those expectations. He said, "It's great seeing a guy with a Nebraska cap on an All-America list. Our players read the periodicals, they follow the media hype. They like the expectations and the preseason rankings. They see that and they say, 'Let's go for it.'"

He came all the way from Las Vegas to see me, so I promised him a home run. In my first at bat I took a fast ball out of the stadium. He died this last fall. God rest his soul.The ultimate baseball game I would most like to play in: The Championship Game of the College World Series.In that game I would... it doesn't matter what I do, as long as we win.I picked Nebraska because... of its winning tradition and first-rate facilities.

1993: Sagmoen (pronounced SAG-mone) will resume his starting role in the Husker outfield, a position he held for the first 31 games last year until he broke his right arm...started every game in center last year, could start in left or right as well...expected to again be NU's leadoff hitter as Sagmoen hits from the left side, is consistent, has power potential and good speed...is a preseason All-American by Collegiate Baseball and a first-team All-Big Eight pick by Baseball America after leading the Big Eight with a .446 batting average...is on track to set NU career average record (.370) selected by his teammates as the 1993 Husker captain.

1992: Sagmoen began his first season as a Husker on a tear, but broke his arm on a diving catch in the third inning to preserve Mike Zajeski's then-no-hitter vs. Evansville on April 5...he started all 31 games in center field as the Huskers' leadoff man...despite playing just 31 games, Sagmoen averaged exactly the required 2.0 at bats per game and led the Big Eight in hitting with a .446 batting average, the second-best average in school history behind Steve Stanicek's .449 in 1982...also led the conference in hits per game with 1.61 and was sixth in stolen bases per game with 0.42...led NU in eight offensive categories at the time of his injury and at the end of the season was still atop the Husker charts in three, including average (.446), slugging percentage (.643) and stolen bases (13-18)...he had 50 hits in 112 at bats, scored 34 runs, had 28 RBI, six doubles, two triples and four home runs...drew 18 walks to 13 strikeouts...In Big Eight action Sagmoen played in just the KU series when he went 5-15 (.333) and helped NU win three of four games...with Sagmoen, Nebraska posted a 20-11 record and went 3-1 in the league, without him, the Huskers won just 11 of their last 25 games and eight of their last 20 conference games...had a long hit streak of eight...had 18 multiple-hit games, seven multiple-RBI games (four RBI twice)...committed just one error and had four assists...had team highs with six hits, five runs in seven at bats vs. Jamestown College...the six hits and seven at bats were Buck Beltzer records, while the six hits tied the school record.

At Yakima Valley (Wash.) College:

Sagmoen played center field for Coach Bob Garretson at Yakima Valley and in 1991 was a teammate of Husker newcomers 1993 David Barnes, Casey Deskins and Tom Bergan...was the school's male athlete-of-the-year as he hit a team-leading .454 in 1991 with 49 hits, 15 doubles, four triples, five home runs and 33 RBI...also had 39 runs scored and nine stolen bases...earned first-team All-Eastern Division of the Northwest Athletic Association Collegiate Conference...was the Eastern Division MVP and co-MVP of the conference...earned second-team All-Eastern in 1990 as he hit .331...his first at bat at Yakima was a home run.

At Kennedy HS:

Transferred to Kennedy his senior year from Cleveland High...led Cleveland to a fifth-place state finish his sophomore and junior years and a 17th-place national ranking his junior year...earned all-metro two years and All-North Puget Sound League his senior year when he was the Washington state Connie Mack Player-of-the-Year.

1993: Michael "Troy" Brohawn (pronounced BRO-hawn) is one of three who earned a starting role in the field last year as a freshman and performed well above average for a first-year player, in fact Brohawn earned votes for freshman All-America honors by Collegiate Baseball...started in the outfield at the outset of the season, then finished the year at first base and will retain his infield position in 1993, but will also pitch for the Huskers...a pitcher in high school, Brohawn worked out last summer and fall on the mound and according to Coach Sanders, Brohawn "threw lights out," and could be a starter or closer...a left-handed thrower, Brohawn has good velocity and would hit for himself when on the mound...one of just two left-handed pitchers on the squad, along with junior college transfer Casey Deskins, but both will play significant roles in 1993.

1992: One of two players to start all 56 games last year, Brohawn played above the freshman level and earned votes for Freshman All-America honors by Collegiate Baseball...he began the season in left field (14 starts), started the last 34 games (and 41 total) at first base, including all 24 Big Eight games...also started one at third base...hit .311 overall with 56 hits (second on the team), 22 RBI, seven doubles, three triples, two home runs, nine sacrifice hits and six stolen bases...came on strong at the end of the season and led the Huskers in conference games, hitting .342 with 16 runs scored, four doubles, two triples (tied for fourth in the league), two doubles, 12 RBI and three stolen bases...was Nebraska's nominee for Big Eight Player-of-the-Week after the Kansas series when he went 5-12 (.417) with three doubles and four RBI...his two home runs on the season were both in league action with one against Missouri when he went 5-11 (.455) in the series, and the other against Oklahoma (4-14, .286)...he hit .417 vs. Oklahoma State, .357 vs. Kansas State and .188 against the Iowa State Cyclones...had a season-high of five hits in the Huskers' third game last year against Nebraska-Kearney when he went 5-5 with a double...had three hits two times, both were in league games when he went 3-3 vs. Oklahoma State in game four, and 3-4 vs. Kansas State in the second game of the series...had a season-high two RBI six times...had a long hit streak of seven...had multiple hits in 11 games, multiple RBI in six games.

At Cambridge South Dorchester HS: Played outfield, first base and pitched for Coach Kermit Hines...hit .487 in 1991 with six home runs, 28 RBI, 18 stolen bases...he drew 42 bases on balls and struck out twice...was the Bayside Player-of-the-Year the past three years...earned a spot on Team Maryland, a ballclub consisting of the top seniors in the state...in 1991, he pitched to an 8-1 record with a 0.88 ERA and 109 strikeouts as a starter...in the summer of 1990, Brohawn played for the Junior National Olympic Team in Cuba and helped his team win the bronze medal...the same summer, he also played outfield for the Olympic Festival East Team, which also earned the bronze...earned first-team all-district in 1990 and 1991 as an outfielder.

1993: One of three freshmen who earned starting roles in the field last year, along with Troy Brohawn and Darin Petersen...Dalton will resume a starting role in the outfield in 1993...hit in the one- or two-hole much of last year and figures to be near the top of the order again this season...started 25 in right field and the last 18 in center after Marc Sagmoen broke his arm, but could start at any one of the three outfield positions...as he earned second-team freshman All-America honors by Baseball America, he is a significant factor in why Coach Sanders said Nebraska has arguably the best outfield in the nation going into the 1993 season...has an excellent combination of power and speed...enters the 1993 season with a two-game hit streak.

1992: Dalton started 46 of 48 games in 1992, 25 in right field, then 21 in center, including the last 18 after Sagmoen broke his arm...was third on the team in hitting with a .358 average, had 59 hits, 26 RBI, eight doubles, one triple and seven home runs for a .545 slugging percentage, led the team in sacrifice bunts with 10 and stole 6-8 bases...for his outstanding first-year efforts he was named to the Baseball America Freshman All-America Second-Team...was also third on the team in hitting in Big Eight action with a .338 average...shared the team lead in hits (27) and runs (17) and led the team in slugging percentage at .538 with four doubles and four homers in league games...in league games, Dalton ranked fourth in the Big Eight in hits per game with 1.27, and tied for sixth in home runs per game at .18...hit .333 vs. Kansas, .357 vs. Kansas State, .333 vs.

Iowa State...posted a series-best .467 against Missouri as he went 7-15, scored four runs with two home runs and three RBI...hit .313 against Oklahoma with four RBI and another two home runs, both were in the first game of the series when he went 2-4...had a season-high three hits four times, including a 3-5 outing at the Pepsi/Johnny Quik Classic in Fresno against nationally-ranked Cal-State Northridge...in the six-game tournament in Fresno, Dalton led the Huskers in hitting as he went 9-24 (.375) with two doubles and a home run...had a season-high three RBI twice, including in the first game of the series against Oklahoma...was only able to start one game in the Oklahoma State series as he had back spasms, but he came in to play left field in the final inning of the last game and made a spectacular catch to preserve a 5-3 win for the Huskers...stole a career-high 2-2 bases vs. Peru State...posted a long hit streak of eight and ended the season with a two-game hit string...had multiple hits in 17 games...multiple-RBI in seven games.

At Papillion-LaVista HS: Played center field for Coach Jim Thomas as his 1991 team finished third in the state...was the Omaha World-Herald Nebraska Player-of-the-Year and the all-state honorary captain his senior year...played in the Collin-Orcutt All-Star Game earning MVP honors...is a member of the Papillion-LaVista Hall of Fame...hit .486 as a senior with eight doubles, one home run and 44 RBI...played on the Legion summer all-star team four years.

PERSONAL PROFILE:

Nickname: Slasher

Birthday: Sept. 29, 1972

Major: Psychology

Parents: Bob and Sherri Mickelson

Hobbies: Nintendo and playing basketball.

Career goals: My first goal is to be drafted and play professional baseball. After my baseball career is over, I would like to get my bachelor's degree and my master's in psychology.

Favorite athletes/pro teams: Scott Erickson, Roger Clemens/Minnesota Twins, Phoenix Suns

Two people I'd most like to meet: Nolan Ryan, Demi Moore

Most people don't know that I... didn't have spring baseball in high school.

If I were President of the United States for one day, I would... take Air Force 1 to the Bahamas.

In world affairs, I am most concerned about: World peace.

My favorite baseball memory to date: When the Twins won the World Series in 1991.

The ultimate baseball game I would most like to play in: A regional championship game to see who goes to the College World Series.

In that game I would... like to strike out the last batter to go to the CWS.

I picked Nebraska because... Nebraska is my home state, has great coaches and facilities and I have a lot of pride.

1993: A strong right-handed pitcher at 6-4, 210, Mickelson (pronounced MIKE-uhl-son) returns after gaining a year of experience...expected to be utilized as a spot starter and as a setup pitcher...strengths are his fastball and curve ball and developed a changeup last fall.

1992: In limited action in 1992, Mickelson appeared in eight games...had one decision, a win against Washburn when he had his first start of the year and in a predetermined rotation, pitched three innings, walked one and struck out two as the Huskers sailed to an 18-4 victory...posted an 8.49 ERA in 11.2 innings, walked eight and struck out nine and was errorless in the field...in Big Eight Conference games, Mickelson pitched one inning against the Iowa State Cyclones and 1.1 innings against Missouri...had a career-high three strikeouts vs. Cal-State Northridge in the Fresno State Pepsi/Johnny Quik Classic, and a career-high 3.0 innings pitched vs. Washburn.

At Norfolk HS: As Norfolk does not support a baseball team, Mickelson's experience comes from the Legion level...playing for the Norfolk Junior Legion team, in 1991 Mickelson pitched to a 3-3 record and a 2.80 ERA with 39 strikeouts in 28 innings...earned the Most Outstanding Pitcher Award at the Nebraska Professional Pitching camp in the winter of 1990.

1992 MIZUNO/COLLEGIATE BASEBALL
FIRST-TEAM FRESHMAN ALL-AMERICAN*PERSONAL PROFILE:*Nickname: PeteBirthday: Nov. 25, 1972Major: Business administrationParents: Allan and Jackie Petersen, Betty SpickelmeierHobby: Trapping rabbits, etc.Career goals: To play professional baseball and to be happy.Two people I'd most like to meet: Bill Murray, Jeff SpicoliMost people don't know that I...drive a $20,000 rabbit.*If I were President of the United States for one day, I would...Play a couple of rounds of golf, then go on MTV.*I picked Nebraska because...facilities, program and pride.

1993: A Mizuno/Collegiate Baseball First-Team Freshman All-American after hitting .329 last year, Petersen and newcomer Robert Perry will secure the middle infield...the pair are nearly interchangeable and give the Huskers excellent defense as well as offensive power...although Petersen started 53 games at short last year, he could move to second, but will start at one of the two positions...according to Coach Sanders, the pair will form a sure-handed 6-4-3 double-play combination...Petersen will also contend for Academic All-America honors as well this year, as he posts a 3.556 cumulative grade point average (on a 4.0 scale) in business administration.

1992: After an impressive freshman season, Petersen earned Mizuno/Collegiate Baseball First-Team Freshman All-America honors...Petersen started 53 games at shortstop and played in all but one contest...he was fourth on the team in hitting at .329...had 54 hits, 32 RBI, seven doubles...hit in the nine-hole but served as a second "leadoff" hitter for NU as he drew 23 walks to 21 strikeouts and had a .423 on-base percentage...had six sacrifice hits and stole 8-10 bases...turned 19 double plays...in Big Eight action, Petersen hit .296 with 10 runs scored, three doubles, 14 RBI and turned eight double plays...was Nebraska's nominee for Big Eight Player-of-the-Week after the Kansas State series when he went 6-13, scored three runs, had one double and two RBI...in the second and third game of the series vs. the KSU Wildcats, he went 2-3 in each game...he hit 4-13 vs. KU (.308), 3-12 vs. Iowa State (.250), 4-11 vs. Missouri (.364), 2-11 vs. Oklahoma and Oklahoma State

(.182)...went 4-4 vs. Wayne State and had three hits four times including two back-to-back 3-5 games against South Dakota...had a career-high three RBI three times...hit his sole homer in the fifth game of the season against Western Illinois...had a long hit streak of four games...had multiple hits in 15 games, multiple RBI in nine.

At Lincoln Southeast HS: Played his senior year in Lincoln for Southeast High and Coach Randy Brolhorst where he was a teammate of fellow newcomer Craig Sanders...transferred to Southeast from Firth-Norris High School, which does not support a baseball team...hit .526 in 1991, the top hitter in the state...led the team in runs scored (17), stole 19 bases and had the fewest strikeouts on the team (three in 72 at bats) and made just two errors all year as the starting shortstop...earned first-team all-city, all-conference, and all-state and was the Lincoln Journal Star Honorary Captain...was also the starting point guard on the Southeast basketball team which made the semifinals of the state tournament in 1991...earned second-team all-city in basketball, honorable-mention all-state and also lettered in track and football...posted a 3.8 grade point average and made academic all-state and National Honor Society.

PERSONAL PROFILE:

Nickname: Flip

Birthday: Sept. 17, 1971

Major: Speech communications

Parents: Doris Pflughaupt, Stewart Pflughaupt

Hobby: Golf

Career goals: After having a productive career at UNL, I would like to graduate and be able to provide well for my family.

Favorite athlete/pro team: Nick Faldo/Charlotte Hornets

Two people I'd most like to meet: Magic Johnson, David Letterman

Most people don't know that I... Saw David Letterman leaning out of the NBC building.

If I were President of the United States for one day, I would... take the day off and go golfing and give myself a raise.

In world affairs, I am most concerned about: Our world coming to an end because of our ignorance.

My favorite baseball memory to date: Getting my first start at K-State last year.

The ultimate baseball game I would most like to play in: The championship game of the College World Series.

In that game I would... come in the game in about the third inning in relief because we are down 3-0. I pitch the rest of the game giving up two hits and no walks. We come back in the eighth and ninth innings and win 4-3 and take the national championship.

I picked Nebraska because... I wanted a chance to compete on a high level and because it is a fun and relaxed atmosphere.

1993: Pflughaupt (pronounced FLEW-hop) gained valuable experience last season and improved steadily as the season progressed...after pitching for Stromsberg this summer, Pflughaupt will serve as a midweek starter/setup pitcher for the Huskers in 1993...has a solid fastball, changeup and curve ball...one of three players, along with Darin Petersen and Craig Sanders, on the team who played in the Lincoln Class A school system.

1992: Pflughaupt pitched in 11 games, started three...posted a win over Jamestown College when in a predetermined start, he went two innings, did not give up any hits, runs or walks and struck out one...posted a 1-2 record and a 6.04 ERA with six walks and eight strikeouts...was errorless in the field...dropped decisions in two Big Eight outings vs. Iowa State and Oklahoma...had a career-high 7.0 innings in a non-conference game at Kansas State where he struck out a career-high two batters against no walks...first career Big Eight Start was against Oklahoma...went 0-2 in the Big Eight with a 7.36 ERA.

1991: Redshirt.

At Northeast HS: Played for Coach Bill Fagler (1987-1990) and earned all-city and all-conference honors as a pitcher his junior year and first-team all-state utility player and all-state as a pitcher his senior year...In 1990, he pitched to a 6-2 record with a 2.74 ERA before a lawn mower accident cut off the tip of his third finger on his right hand and ended his senior season...in 50.0 innings pitched, he walked just 15, struck out 65 and had six complete games...an all-around athlete, Pflughaupt was honorable-mention all-city as the Rockets' quarterback in 1989 and was also second-team all-city and made the Class A State All-Tournament team in basketball.

PERSONAL PROFILE:

Nickname: RedmanBirthday: July 31, 1972Major: General studies, soon to be environmental studiesParents: John and Marilee SandersHobbies: Pets (dog--"Billy the Kid"), the outdoors (fishing, golf, photography), gardeningCareer goals: To do well in school and baseball, play professional baseball, then make use of my degree.Two people I'd most like to meet: Dick Omer (deceased grandfather who died before I was born), Chuck Eisenman (famous dog trainer who trained the TV series Littlest Hobo).Most people don't know that I... would like to swim with sharks and roam with a pack of wolvesIn world affairs, I am most concerned about: Environmental issues.I picked Nebraska because... I've always loved the NEBRASKA CORNHUSKERS!!!

1993: John "Craig" Sanders comes off a solid freshman season which saw him earn Collegiate Baseball Freshman All-America votes as he would have ranked fourth in the Big Eight with a 3.00 ERA in 48 innings, but was eight innings short of the prerequisite 2.0 per game played by team...strengths are his physical size at 6-4, 225 pounds, and his composure...has a good fastball, down-breaking curve ball and changeup...Nebraska's only returning starter on the mound, Sanders could again be a starter for the Huskers, but could also serve as a setup pitcher...will contend for academic All-Big Eight and All-America honors this season as he posts a 3.207 cumulative grade point average in general studies...one of four father-son, coach-player combinations in Division I baseball this year.

1992 Summer: Played for the semi-pro Beatrice (Neb.) Bruins which finished second in the state and continued on to the national tournament in Wichita, Kan.

1992: Pitched in 14 games as a true freshman, started seven...posted the fourth-best ERA in the Big Eight at 3.00 and earned votes for Collegiate Baseball's Freshman All-America Team...finished with a 3-2 record with wins over Western Illinois, South Dakota and Peru State...recorded two complete games, against Western Illinois in a three-hit seven-inning outing (two walks and four strikeouts), and a complete nine-inning (career high) one-hitter against Peru State...struck out a career-high six against Colorado State and South Dakota.

1991 Summer: Played for the Beatrice Bruins and performed well on the mound mostly in a relief role...appeared in 12 games, struck out 42 in 33 innings and posted a 2-1 strikes-to-walks ratio...finished the season with a 2.73 ERA...helped Beatrice to a state tournament championship pitching a complete nine-inning game in the semifinals, winning 4-1 with 10 K's, three walks and four hits...aided the Bruins to a fourth-place national finish at the NBC Tournament in Wichita, Kan.

At Southeast HS: Earned eight letters at Southeast, four each in baseball and basketball...helped lead Southeast to four consecutive appearances at the state baseball tournament...hit .406 in 1991 with 11 runs scored, two doubles, three triples and 19 RBI playing outfield and first base for Coach Randy Brothorst...earned first-team all-city, all-conference three years as an outfielder...earned honorable-mention all-state (OF) his sophomore, junior and senior years...posted a four-year prep average over .400...played forward and led Southeast to the state basketball tournament his senior year...as a senior, he set a state record for 3-pointers in a single game as he was 8-8 against North Platte...Sanders earned honorable-mention all-state basketball honors his senior year, honorable-mention all-city honors as a sophomore and senior...earned the Sertoma Basketball Award in 1991 and was an academic honor roll student all four years...teammate of fellow Husker Darin Petersen in 1991 at Southeast.

Huskers in the Community

Last summer and fall the Huskers were busy on and off the field. Team members and coaches spent numerous hours of their free time to give back to the community. The following are just a few of the "team" projects Nebraska is currently involved with:

- ✓ Providing an annual free clinic to area youth in Grand Island to benefit the local YMCA.
- ✓ The annual Lincoln Paint-A-Thon.
- ✓ Annual visits to the Lincoln Veteran's Hospital.
- ✓ Serving as Big Brothers to the students at Lincoln Arnold Elementary School.
- ✓ Serving as mentors with the Lincoln Public Middle School program.

The Huskers also speak to kids about staying in school, saying no to drugs and developing a support system. If you are interested in having Husker players or coaches get involved with your community/school projects, please contact baseball secretary Renee Brinkmann at the Husker baseball office at (402) 472-2269.

At right, the Husker baseball team, true to form, shows they don't mind getting dirty, or changing colors, for a good cause as they participate in the Lincoln Paint-A-Thon, while the coaches watch.

Big Eight Conference Schedule and Information

A vote of Big Eight Conference faculty athletics representatives and athletic directors in December of 1991 ratified a proposal to expand the Conference regular-season and postseason tournament, beginning with the 1993 season.

The regular season will change from the four-game weekend series format to a five-game series. The four-game series were played at one site in 1992, while the five-game series will feature three games at one location, with the remaining two games returned to the visitor in mid-week competition. It will effectively decrease the number of non-conference games, and increase regular-season conference games from 24 to 30. Dates for inclement weather will be eliminated. All games will be nine-inning contests, unless mutually agreed upon by both competing coaches prior to the start of competition.

The Big Eight Baseball Tournament, beginning in 1993, will move to a six-team format. It will follow the bracket and seeding principles of the NCAA Division I Baseball Regional Tournaments. In a related measure, conference administrators also voted to award the state of Oklahoma as the host of the baseball tournament until the year 2000.

Faculty athletic representatives and athletic directors supported the new scheduling because it resulted in less class conflicts for student-athletes. The new tournament format was accepted in a move to structure conference championships along principles similar to the NCAA events.

Long-time Major League Husker Players

Stan Bahnsen, Bob Cerv and Pete O'Brien

Stan Bahnsen and Bob Cerv rank first and second among Nebraska alums in terms of major league experience. Bahnsen, who competed at NU in 1965, completed a 16-year major league career in 1982 with the Philadelphia Phillies, while Cerv (a Husker from 1947-50) spent 12 years in the majors.

Stan Bahnsen was the 1968 American League Rookie-of-the-Year after compiling a 17-12 record with the New York Yankees. He went on to win 20 games (21-16 with the Chicago White Sox in 1972) and finished his career with a 146-149 record and an ERA of 3.61.

Bahnsen also played for the Oakland A's, California Angels, and the Montreal Expos before retiring as a member of the Phillies.

Bob Cerv's most productive year in the majors was in 1958. While playing for the Kansas City Athletics, Cerv belted 38 homers; which still stands as the record by a professional player in Kansas City. In his career, Cerv tallied 105 homers and hit .267 while playing on four world series teams with the Yankees. In addition to the Yankees, White Sox, and Colt '45's (Houston), Cerv also played for the New York Mets.

Current major league player and former Husker (1978-79)

Pete O'Brien will enter his 11th-year as a professional baseball player in 1993. O'Brien spent the first six years of his career with the Texas Rangers (1983-88), then one with the Cleveland Indians (1989). He has been a member of the Seattle Mariners the past three seasons (1990-92), and will again be on their roster this spring and summer for his 11th season as a big leaguer.

Former Husker pitcher Stan Bahnsen was the 1968 American League Rookie-of-the-Year with a 17-12 record for the New York Yankees.

When Nebraska and Colorado finally ended the 22-inning marathon on April 26, 1974, everyone knew that it had been one long day at the ballpark and much later, it was discovered that this game was in fact the longest game played in NCAA history. In addition, national records for at bats by individuals (10 by Jim Smith, Nebraska and Jay Sferra, Colorado) and by a team (CU's 78) were set along with total at bats (155) and CU plate appearances (88) and total plate appearances (185). All of the records set that day are still current among NCAA Division I schools. Nebraska struck out a total of 23 times (only one short of the record) and missed its best chance to win in the 20th inning when right fielder Norm Glissman led off with a triple. After a strikeout and an intentional walk, second baseman Ken Bauder missed the squeeze bunt sign and Glissman was cut down at the plate. After CU scored in the top of the 22nd, Buffalo pitcher Bob Kelly struck out the side to end the nearly five-hour endurance test. Randy Benish was the losing pitcher for Nebraska.

NEBRASKA'S LAST PERFECT GAME:

Nebraska 3, Kansas 0
May 3, 1980

Kansas	000 000 0	0 0 0
Nebraska	002 010 X	3 4 0

KU--Hicks and Graham. NU--Faust and M. Haas.
WP--Faust (7-1).
LP--Hicks (2-4).
HR--NU--M. Haas (4).

After plowing his way through Kansas' first 20 batters, (and having only four hit the ball out of the infield) senior pitcher Cliff Faust must have thought he was seeing his perfect game slice away. The Jayhawks' Dick Lewallen came to the plate with two outs in the seventh (and final inning) and promptly hit a sinking line drive into left field. But All-Big Eight left fielder Joe Scherger made a diving grab to save Faust's perfect game. Outside of Lewallen's game-ender, no other Jayhawk made a serious bid to reach base. Faust wound up his final season by being named All-Big Eight while earning the No. 2 spot in NU's career records for ERA (2.52). Faust's perfect game came the day after Buck Beltzer Stadium was officially dedicated.

OU--Hinz, Dean (6) and Empting. NU--Kelley and Richards.
WP--Kelley (2-1). LP--Hinz (4-1).
2B--NU--Hill, Clarke.
HR--NU--Stanicek (5).

Freshman Anthony Kelley made his first conference victory of his first season a memorable one, as he tossed a no-hitter against the Oklahoma Sooners. Kelley's gem couldn't have come at a better time, since NU had already split the first two games of the series. Kelley was never in any serious trouble as he struck out seven, while walking just three. First baseman Steve Stanicek provided the offensive punch, slugging a two-run homer in the fifth.

All-Time Nebraska Baseball Letterman List

(Note: The year is listed for each letter won. For example: the listing for Larry Bornschlegl reads, "1963-65", which means that Bornschlegl lettered in 1963 and in 1965, but not in 1964. Also, letterman lists are not available for the following seasons: 1895, 1903, 05, 11, 12, 14 15, 16, 18, 19, 26, 27, 28, 32, 33, 43, 44, 45).

BUCK BELTZER STADIUM AT NIGHT:
As beautiful at night as it is during the day.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln

BUILT ON A FOUNDATION OF EXCELLENCE; CONTINUING A COMMITMENT TO PROGRESS:

The University of Nebraska was chartered by the Legislature in 1869 as the state's public university and land-grant institution. Founded in Lincoln, the University of Nebraska was expanded in 1968 into a state educational system now comprising four campuses under the guidance of a Board of Regents and a central administration.

The university's flagship campus, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, includes the agricultural components organized within the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. UNL is Nebraska's only land-grant university and its major comprehensive institution of higher education. For its 24,000 students from all parts of the world, UNL offers a wide range of undergraduate, professional, and graduate programs including those leading to the doctorate.

As UNL carries out its three-part mission of teaching, research and service, the overall impact of its efforts in each area is greater than the sum of its separate parts, ensuring that the quality of all of its institutional programs is consistent with the expectations and needs of Nebraskans. UNL is continuously designing new academic frameworks to provide students with the mental skills and broad perspectives of educated citizens.

Quality instruction is emphasized in UNL's eight undergraduate colleges, the Graduate College and the College of Law. The Colleges of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources, Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Engineering and Technology, Human Resources and Family Sciences, Journalism and Teachers College offer more than 100 degree programs leading to career opportunities in the arts, the sciences, the humanities and the professions.

Over the years, alumni such as authors Willa Cather and Mari

The Lied Center for Performing Arts is a state-of-the-art facility designed to be a showcase for major regional, national and international events.

Sandoz, legal educator Roscoe Pound, anthropologist Loren Eiseley, Pulitzer Prize-winning journalists James Risser and Marjorie Lundstrom, presidential advisers such as Ted Sorensen and Clayton Yeutter, Nobel-prize winning scientists such as George W. Beadle and Donald Crum, inventor Harold "Doc" Edgerton and computer pioneer Jay Forrester have enriched the university's tradition of leadership and scholarly excellence.

UNL receives more than $50 million annually in grants and contracts from outside sources for research, instruction, public service, administration and student aid. UNL receives special funds through an innovative program initiated by the state government for research in areas with potential impact on the state's economic development.

The campus is home to the nationally renowned Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery and Sculpture Garden, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art and the Lied Center for Performing Arts. The University of Nebraska State Museum boasts a world-class fossil collection and helped develop Ashfall Fossil Beds State Park, which opened in the summer of 1991.

Noted for its outstanding athletic programs, UNL is also noted for the quality of its academic programs for student athletes. Its Hewitt Training Center for student athletes provides computer labs, study areas, career counseling and other academic support services. UNL leads the nation in Academic All-Americans for all sports.

In 1991, College Athletic Management Magazine named Nebraska No. 1 in the country for its support program for student athletes. UNL is also considered the flagship of a 50-university consortium of universities that guarantees scholarships for student-athletes who want to get a degree after their eligibility is completed.

Dedicated in the fall of 1992, the Lee & Helene Sapp Recreation Facility houses UNL's Campus Recreation Department. The rec center features the Cook Pavilion (indoor workout facility), a weight facility, swimming pool, jogging track, 13 racquetball courts, several maple basketball and multi-purpose courts and a lounge for students and faculty.

Facilities at Nebraska

THE BAUMANN BASEBALL BUILDING:

Dedicated in the spring of 1984, the Baumann Baseball Building is one of the recent additions to the growing list of improvements that have made Buck Beltzer Stadium one of the most complete baseball complexes in the Midwest.

Named for the late Otto and Gladys Baumann, long-time Husker baseball boosters who made the building possible, the building houses all of the offices for the Husker baseball staff, in addition to a locker room, completely refurbished in 1991. It includes a training room, laundry facilities, and a state-of-the-art video viewing room in a conference.

Special contributions made with time, money, materials or effort are: George Abel--Abel Foundation; John Bordogna--John Bordogna Painting; Larry Curd--R.L. White Company; David L. Farnsworth--Sealrite Windows, Inc.; Clarence E. Frederick--Midwest Steel Works, Inc.; Albert Hamersky--The Clark Enersen Partners, Inc.; Harold F. Hoppe, Jr.--Hoppe Manufacturing Company; Minnegasco; David Murdock--Yankee Hill Brick and Tile Company; Jack Phillips--Western Supply Corporation; Lee Roberts--Roberts Engineering Company; Paul Schorr III--Commonwealth Electric Company; Ernest W. Swanson--Ernie's of Ceresco; Alex C. Efting--Furnishings for the reception area and conference room; Ross and Marsha Gifford--Flags and Flagpoles for field; Pete O'Brien--Contribution for batting cage bought in 1985; Carl W. Olson--Olson

The Huskers call the Otto and Gladys Baumann Building home to their own offices, conference room and club house/locker room.

Construction Co.--Instrumental in having the building built, by acquiring donations; Sower's Club--sound system installed in 1993; Clyde Luther--office renovation, 1993.

The University of Nebraska Baseball Stadium was named after alumnus "Buck" Beltzer.

STADIUM NAMED FOR "BUCK" BELTZER:

Nebraska's baseball complex is named after O.A. "Buck" Beltzer, the late, well-known Husker athlete and Grand Island businessman.

Beltzer, born in Stratton, Neb. in 1888, earned the nickname "Buck" as a prepster at Arapahoe, Neb. Following his high school career, Beltzer went to Nebraska for three years of athletic stardom. He lettered in football and baseball in 1907-08-09 and is the only NU athlete to have captained both the football and baseball teams the same year, as he did in 1909.

Beltzer's name is well known in the state baseball ranks, as he managed a semi-pro, barnstorming team and also clubs in Lincoln and Grand Island in the Nebraska State League. He was instrumental in building old Landis Field in Lincoln, the west "P" street frontrunner to the Capital City's Sherman Field.

In Grand Island, Beltzer was president of both the Grand Island Trust Co. and Home Federal Savings and Loan, positions he held until his death in 1959.

The University of Nebraska is fortunate to have one of the best medical/training facilities in the nation.

MEDICAL FACILITIES AND STAFF:

While most schools would be satisfied with just one certified Physical Therapist on staff, the University of Nebraska has four. This, combined with a full staff of doctors, ensures that all student-athletes will receive the best athletic care possible during their years as a Nebraska Cornhusker.

Dr. Lonnie Albers is the Director of Athletic Medicine heading up a team of veteran medical experts which includes, Dr. Samuel I. Fuenning, Dr. Pat Clare, Dr. Matt Reckmeyer, Dr. Michael Adams and Dr. Robert Dugas.

Leading one of the nation's top athletic training staffs, is George Sullivan, Head Trainer and Physical Therapist. Sullivan supervises all Husker training facilities which include four separate training rooms. Sullivan's assistants include Associate Trainers Jerry Weber and Jack Nickolite, Assistant Trainer and Physical Therapist Roland "Duke" LaRue, and Assistant Trainers Doak Ostergard and Lynn Conley. In addition to the full-time help, the Huskers have a team of student trainers that assist the Huskers, and all the modern equipment needed to ensure that every athlete receives the best care and rehabilitation possible.

Nebraska Academic Programs

The Hewitt Center and Boekel Academic Center offer UNL student-athletes many academic support services.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FACILITIES-FINEST IN THE NATION:

Most fans of Nebraska athletics are aware of the facilities available to Cornhusker student-athletes. But fewer people are aware of the nation's finest academic facility for student-athletes. Located under the west stands of Memorial Stadium, the Hewitt Center and Boekel Academic Center allow Nebraska's student-athletes to have access to the latest in academic support services.

The $2.3 million academic area originated in 1983 and is nearly 30,000 square feet in size. Initial funding came from the Nebraska football team's appearance in the inaugural Kickoff Classic in 1983.

The money from that game, combined with the generous donations from the Robert and Sue Boekel family and the William and Betty Hewitt family, allows Nebraska student-athletes to make use of the finest academic support center in the country.

The facility serves nearly 650 student-athletes, houses administrators, counselors, a reading lounge, quiet study area, classroom, conference room, computer lab, study hall and career center.

Not only do Nebraska's current student-athletes benefit from the foresight and generosity of the Hewitt's and Boekel's, prospective student-athletes see the nation's largest and finest academic area as a major advantage.

THE TRADITION CONTINUES:

A Message From the Director of Academic Programs,
Dr. Roger Grooters

Academic, personal, and professional support are essential to college success. At the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, we have developed an award-winning academic support program which enables student-athletes to realize their full potential. College selection involves the evaluation of many key components, and the most important of those is academic support. UNL offers an academic support program integrated with the campus that will assist all student-athletes with the transition into college and continued support in all phases of academic and professional development culminating with graduation, job placement or graduate school.

A SUMMARY OF SUPPORT SERVICES:

Orientation:

The new student-athlete orientation consists of informative sessions designed to assist with the transition from high school to college.

Study Programs:

All first-year student-athletes are required to complete eight hours of study hall per week.

Tutorial Support:

One of Nebraska's largest, and perhaps most beneficial support services for student-athletes is the Tutorial Program. The program strives to accomplish several goals and has three basic components designed to help reach these goals. They are: Academic Profile, Subject Tutoring, and Mentoring.

Subject and Mentor Tutors:

A subject tutor provides specific course guidance in either one-on-one sessions or group-review sessions.

A mentor tutor is typically an upperclass or graduate student who assists in developing sound time management and study skills.

Academic Supervision:

An important part of the academic process for student-athletes is the monitoring of their short-term and long-term academic success. Three programs designed to help the student-athlete are: Study Hall, Grade Reports, and Class Attendance.

Reading and Writing Lab:

The newest program available to Nebraska's student-athletes helps them improve the skills which are imperative for success regardless of the student's academic abilities.

The goal of this lab is to enhance reading and writing skills while reducing student anxiety through student-centered activities focused on current coursework.

Computer Resources:

First-class computer instruction is available and designed to enhance student-athletes' efficiency and performance in the classroom by utilizing a state-of-the-art computer lab.

Preparation for Life After Sports:

Seminars and counseling support aimed at helping student-athletes with the disengagement from athletics is one of the most important areas of Nebraska's entire Athletic Academic Counseling Unit.

Husker Strength and Conditioning

Nebraska expanded its Strength Complex in the West Stadium to 30,000 square feet in 1989, making it the largest on a college campus in the country.

STRENGTH IS CONFIDENCE:

"Strength is Confidence"...These three words express the philosophy of the baseball staff at the University of Nebraska, concerning physical conditioning and weight training. It is apparent that modern-day athletes are getting bigger, stronger and faster. In order to be competitive at the major college level, a strength program must be an essential component for a successful experience.

Weight training and baseball—are they compatible? Yes, definitely, if they are done in the proper fashion. The soundness of any weight program lies in the contention that such a program must meet the needs and objectives of the individual to further his skills for a given sport. The weight routine utilized at Nebraska is specific for the baseball athlete—it is NOT a bulk program. Rather, it is devised to develop strength and flexibility for the athlete so as to establish a physical base from which baseball skills may be cultivated.

The current weight training routine was not an overnight creation of the coaching staff. It is a combined product of NU's nationally-reknown strength program, headed by strength authority, Boyd Epley, his assistants and the Husker baseball staff. Stemming from this expertise, the program is a circuit type of training and takes place in one of the four major athletic weight facilities on campus. It is conducted on a year-round basis with peak conditioning in the late fall and a maintenance routine during the spring season and is closely supervised by the coaching staff.

In summary, Coach Sanders and his staff feel NU's strength program is an essential phase of Husker baseball success—it is not a bulk program, but rather is specifically suited for the baseball athlete. With this program, and with the facilities and supervision available, your collegiate and perhaps professional baseball career would be enhanced from attending the University of Nebraska.

TRAINING TABLE:

Good eating habits are a must for athletes who want to perform their best, both in the classroom and on the playing field. By working with the International Center for Sports Nutrition (ICSN), the University of Nebraska is able to make sure their athletes will be able to continue the good nutrition habits they learned at home.

ICSN's history of successful programs and research prompted the University of Nebraska athletic department to select ICSN to provide nutrition and consultation services. In addition to its work with the University of Nebraska athletes, ICSN plans and evaluates the nutrition program of the United States Olympic Committee and provides nutrition information to colleges across the country through its affiliation with the NCAA.

The services of ICSN are often sought by many public and private organizations across the nation. The University of Nebraska program is unique in that it offers each athlete individual attention.

The nutrition services:

- ✓ Help athletes know what they should eat.
- ✓ Make sure the athletes are getting enough calories, vitamins and minerals in the foods they are eating.
- ✓ Set individual body fat goals for maintaining, losing or gaining weight.
- ✓ Help athletes plan an individual nutrition program.
- ✓ Work with doctors, trainers, coaches and dietitians in researching ways to help athletes remain healthy and perform better.
- ✓ Provide written materials on nutrition.
- ✓ Answer nutritional questions.

Because the University of Nebraska and ICSN are concerned with the long-term health of athletes, they have worked together to conduct studies on preventing heart disease in athletes, determining the adequacy of athletes' diets and evaluating the best way to lose or gain weight. Such studies will benefit UNL's athletes now and long after they leave the university.

The Hewitt Center, opened in the West Stadium in 1985 and expanded in 1989, houses Nebraska's outstanding year-round training table which provides lunch and dinner for UNL athletes, and offices for the Boekel Academic Center and the Athletic Department's fund-raising arm.

An Inside Look at the Husker Program

PRIDE, LOYALTY, SELF-DISCIPLINE:

Pride, loyalty and self-discipline...these three words are the foundations of the baseball program at the University of Nebraska. They are essential ingredients for the total development of the player striving to reach his individual potential.

Nebraska natives, Head Coach John Sanders (right) and Assistant Coach and former player Paul Meyers (left), exemplify pride, loyalty, and self-discipline.

1) PRIDE: The self-esteem one holds for his school, team, sense of competition and own talent.

Personal Pride: A fierce competitive spirit that will never allow you to give any effort but your best.

Team Pride: The knowledge that you belong to a group dedicated to excellence—a group that will distinguish itself because of the sacrifices they make in behalf of their goals.

2) LOYALTY: The allegiance to and support of your school, team, and image of one's self.

Personal Loyalty: Each of you must personally be sold on our system of play. The successful programs, the winning ones, are composed of "Believers."

Team Loyalty: The trust we must have for each other, including the knowledge you will defend each other to any critic. Loyalty to each other is a two-way street with you giving and receiving in equal amounts. Unselfishness on behalf of the team should be your ultimate goal.

3) SELF-DISCIPLINE: Baseball demands different mental and physical regulation. Self-control in teamwork, cooperation, sportsmanship, honesty, integrity, obedience to authority, control of emotions, and proper conduct are a few disciplines one must command. Pride in yourself and loyalty to your self-image will allow you to exercise the necessary self-discipline when required.

The Nebraska Coaching Staff

The History of "Beautiful" Buck Beltzer Stadium

Buck Beltzer Field has been the University of Nebraska official baseball site since the mid 40s. The design and facilities have been constantly upgraded, to where it now ranks as one of the finest in the Midwest. In the earlier days, the home plate was located in what is now left field, making the present seating area a part of right field. In the early 70's, the switch to the present configuration was made.

The modernization of the area began in the fall of 1977, when the first artificial playing surface, along with covered dugouts and permanent seating, was installed. These improvements were the first of many that came about by donations from the Californians for Nebraska Booster Club.

The diamond was officially dedicated as Buck Beltzer Field in the spring of 1979, when a generous donation from the Beltzer family (Jim of Grand Island, and Mrs. Bob Flory of Fremont) made the rest of the development of the stadium (aluminum seats, press box, restrooms and concession stands) possible. One year later, the stands were expanded to its present size, raising the total seating capacity of the main grandstands to 1,500 and making the facility much more of a stadium than a field, thus Buck Beltzer Stadium. In 1981, thanks to another donation from the Californians, the new scoreboard was installed and in 1983, the new artificial surface replaced the worn-out original.

In 1984, the Beltzer Stadium complex, the Baumann Baseball Building, was completed. Named for the founder of the Californians for Nebraska (the late Otto and Gladys Baumann), the locker room/office facility is located behind the Husker dugout. In 1989, once again largely due to the contributions of the Californians for Nebraska, Musco lights were installed, which put Nebraska's complex among the top in the nation.

The first official night game under the lights also marked Coach John Sanders' 500th career victory as Nebraska defeated Iowa State 3-2 in the second game of a double-header on May 12, 1989. The lights were dedicated Oct. 13, 1990 at the first-ever Husker Baseball Alumni Game.

BUCK BELTZER STADIUM QUICK FACTS:

Dedicated: May 2, 1980.

First Nebraska Victory: Dedication day and the first day the Huskers played on the new field, May 2, 1980, as Nebraska swept a double-header from Kansas 2-0 and 11-7.

First Shutout: Tim Burke shut out the KU Jayhawks in the first game ever played at Buck Beltzer as NU won its first game in the stadium 2-0 over Kansas (May 2, 1980).

First Perfect Game: The day after Burke's shutout of KU and Nebraska's first two wins at Buck Beltzer, Cliff Faust added another first by throwing the first perfect game at Beltzer Stadium. Nebraska won the game 3-0 against the Jayhawks on May 3, 1980.

First Home Run: Junior catcher Mark Haley slugged a two-run homer in the Huskers' five-run, fourth inning of their 11-7 win over Kansas in the second game played at Beltzer, May 2, 1980.

First Triple Play: By Nebraska infield against Fort Hays State on March 18, 1989, David Boever (SS) caught a line drive and threw out the runner at second base with the aid of 2B Bruce Wobken, who then turned the triple play to first baseman Doug Twitty, throwing out the runner.

Playing Surface: Monsanto Stadium-8 AstroTurf (installed summer and fall of 1982).

Light System: Musco, seven poles, approximately 250 light fixtures, 100 footcandles.

Seating Capacity: 1,500 seats in the main stadium area directly behind home plate.

Dimensions: 330 feet on the lines, 375 feet in the power alleys and 400 feet to straight-away center.

Top Crowd: When Nebraska hosted the No. 1 Oklahoma State Cowboys in 1988, a single-day (2,851) attendance record and two-day series record (5,608) was set, breaking the old series record of 5,000 set against Oklahoma in 1983.

Buck Beltzer Stadium

Husker fans enjoy Big Eight Conference action at Buck Beltzer Stadium during a state-wide televised contest. The stadium is equipped with a main press box and two TV/radio boxes. In 1993, the Nebraska-Oklahoma game on Sunday, March 9 will be televised on NETV.

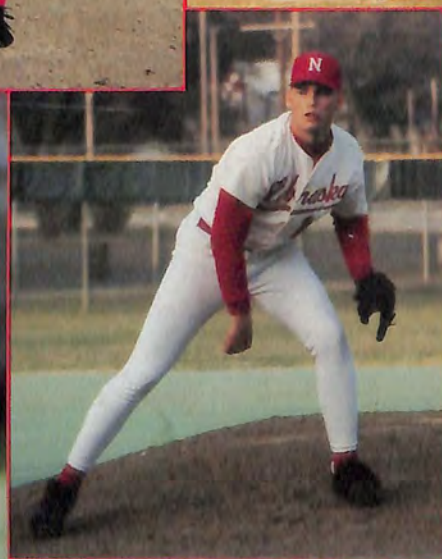

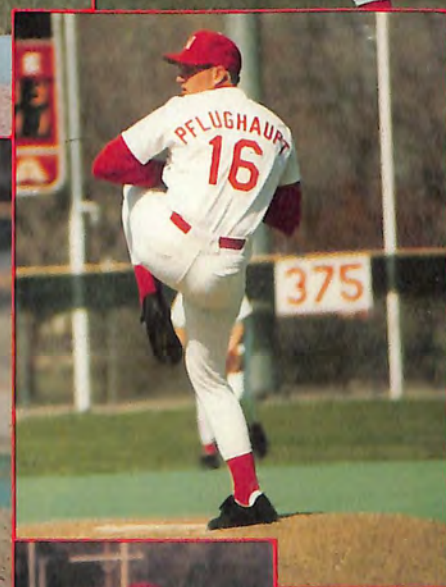

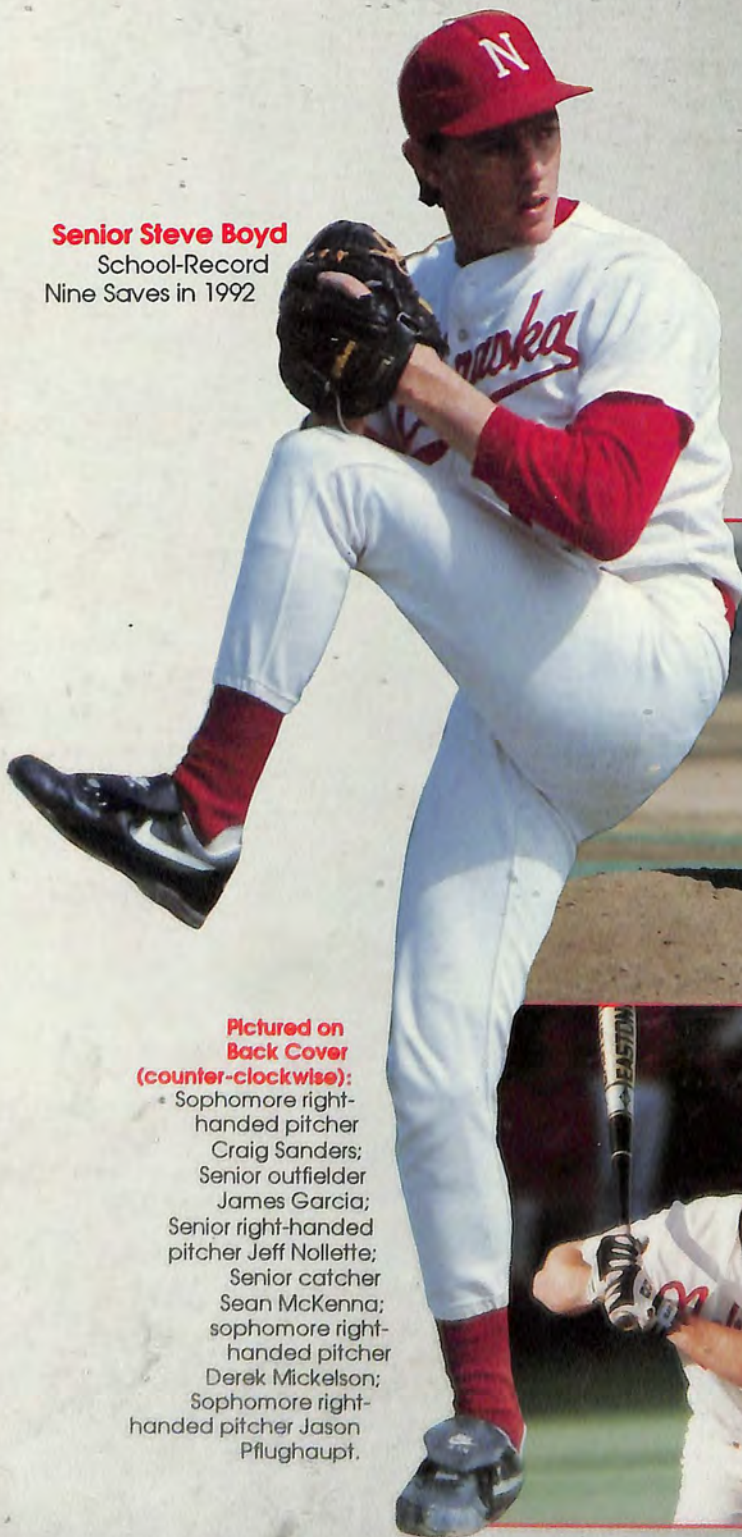

The Huskers have enjoyed playing at Buck Beltzer Stadium since World War II. Since then, it has continually been updated, making it one of the finest baseball stadiums in the nation today. The facility is located on UNL's downtown campus in Lincoln, adjacent to the Ed Weir Track, Cook Pavillion and Memorial Stadium. Beltzer is fully equipped with Musco lights, installed in 1989 and a state-of-the-art public address and sound system, installed prior to the 1993 season.
